The greener alternative to the current range, pre-moistened sampling swabs offer end-users a convenient and simple sampling method to confirm the presence of microorganisms on equipment and critical surfaces giving greater brand protection, helping to minimise exposure to potential recalls.

Technical Service Consultants (TSC) PreMoist Swabs should be used for environmental and hygiene surveillance (including HACCP processes), food-security (including TACCP), or cleaning validation due to the inclusion of disinfectant neutralisers. Within a clinical setting, Pre-Moist swabs are also a valuable tool for infection control investigations.
